Secure Messaging

Send private real-time messages and group messages to colleagues or clients in relation to specific financial matters.

Secure File Transfer

SaltDNA allows for multiple file attachments that are completely encrypted end-to-end.

Closed Contacts

Organisations can manage the communication channels within their company. This ensures that only trusted users and clients get access to the system.

White-Label Options

Wealth management firms can use the award winning branded SaltDNA secure communications platform, or apply your own logo and brand colours with a fully white-labelled system.

SaltDNA have been building secure enterprise mobile communications solutions since 2013.

Our product provides secure voice, messaging, conference calling and image transfer for busy professionals, who need to make important decisions while on the move.

Wealth Managers often know more about a client's personal dealings than their closest friends or family. Everyday wealth managers deal with important people who trust you to make the correct business and life decisions with them.

With at least 74% of financial advisors having been a target of a cyber attack, wealth management firms need to go above and beyond to protect their client data. This means locking down their communication channels to ensure complete privacy over their client information.
